THANKSGIVING IS A time when a concentrated and collective effort is made on the part of many to count our blessings.

Enumerating on one special day the good things that have happened to me during the year really is not the way to fly.

An inventory of that kind is bound to miss a few items. It should, of course, be a continuous thing.

On the other hand, too few of us even bother to run a check list of any kind on our blessings. On Thanksgiving or any other time.

So Thanksgiving does help to put it all into focus.

We have the advantage over you, of course.

As we are writing this, we have been thinking about all the things that we can be thankful for personally and have taken more or less for granted.

It makes quite an impressive list.

TRADITIONALLY THE Campbell Press calls on a member of the local clergy to present a Thanksgiving message. This year, Herb Johnson, minister of the Campbell Assembly of God Church, does the honors.

We think it is particularly fitting to have called on Herb to do the chores this year. He is the "dean" of the local clergymen. He has been pastor of the church in Campbell since 1942.

Herb is a native of Campbell and attended both Campbell elementary and Campbell High School. He recalls that he was student body business manager while a student at Campbell High.

In that capacity he officially deposited coins in the metal box which was placed in the cornerstone of the then "new" high school building at the corner of Campbell and Winchester.

Just a couple of weeks ago, you may remember, a similar ceremony took place at the city hall clock tower. The contents of that time capsule addressed to the citizens of 2071.

We didn't ask Herb whether the contents that were placed in the high school cornerstone were geared to any particular future year as was the case with the city hall job.

We are not even reporting what year the high school cornerstone was put in place.

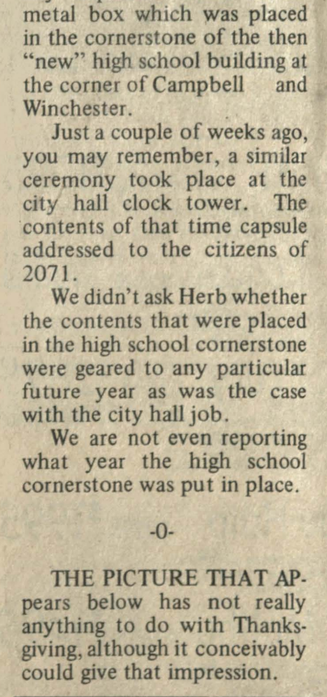
THE PICTURE THAT APpears below has not really anything to do with Thanksgiving, although it conceivably could give that impression.



WALLY BYRON

We have had it on our files for quite some time, hoping to find a suitable occasion to use it. Thanksgiving seems to be about right.

It is a candid shot of Wally Byron, city building official, taken in the final stages of the construction of the new city

Board sets date for tax election but defers decision on $$ amount

There will be a tax election on February 29, 1972 in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District.

And there will be a campaign committee formed to promote the election.

That much was decided at the trustees' meeting last Thursday.

Still to be decided, however, is how much of an increase (if any) to the present $2.55 tax rate will be placed on the ballot for voter approval on Feb. 29 and for how long a period of time the new rate will be in effect.

Those decisions are scheduled to be made at the next board meeting on Thursday, December 9, provided, of course, that the trustees at that time are able to agree among themselves as to what should be the question that will be presented to the voters.

And it was indicated at the meeting last Thursday that there are many areas of disagreement that will have to be plowed under on quite a few fronts before any proposal with respect to the district tax rate can be readied for the voters.

MacQUIDDY RECOMMENDS

Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, board president, was the only trustee last Thursday to give any firm indication as to what his feelings were on the matter.

In a prepared statement distributed to the board members and then outlined orally upon the request of representatives of the teacher organizations. MacQuiddy suggested a 50-cent tax increase (from $2.55 to $3.05) for a three-

However, MacQuiddy's proposal, which was not commented upon by any other board member, was criticized immediately by Herb Wadley, representing the Campbell Elementary Teachers Association (CETA) and Gordon Martin of the West Valley Federation of Teachers (WVFT).

Both claimed that the 50-cent hike would be inadequate to carry on a proper educational program for the district.

Martin submitted that he was not sure his group would be able to support such a small increase in the tax rate. The teachers' union had recommended that the rate be increased by 95-cents to $3.50.

MacQuiddy defended his recommendation by claiming that he felt the public would not support a higher rate and it would be "exercise in futility" to ask for a higher increase.

MacQuiddy added that not only was the 50-cent hike fairly close to the tax election committee's recommendation of 40-45 cents but over a three-year period would raise approximately the same amount that the CETA had suggested was necessary.

"There is no reason to ask for $3.25," MacQuiddy pointed out, "as suggested by CETA, when $3.05 will do the same job".

TAX COMPARABLE

MacQuiddy also maintained that the proposed $3.05 rate would be comparable to most school districts in the county.

Wadley questioned MacQuiddy's interpretation of the CETA's proposal and Martin of WVFT said he was not familiar with the CETA's figures.

MacQuiddy then asked if the two teacher groups weren't speaking to each other and then suggested, "Herb, would you please send the figures you gave us to Gordon."

Bob Turk, principal of Rosemary, also asked MacQuiddy to explain his reasoning. The administrators had also suggested a higher increase than the 50-cents.

The four other board members did not participate in the discussion except to point out that the matter needed further study. Trustee Ralph Steinberg indicated that he favored an increase but it was something that the board could not jump into in a short period of time.

MacQuiddy brought the matter to a head by moving that two parts of the tax election committee recommendations be approved: (1) that the election be set for Feb. 29, 1972 and (2) that acting Superintendent Jim D'Avis be directed to begin organizing a campaign committee.

DATE SET

Both motions were passed unanimously, although Trustee Dr. Robert King questioned how a committee could function without knowing the specifications.

The question of composition of the committee also provoked considerable discussion from the audience as well as the board members.

D'Avis said that it would be his intention to have a large group on the committee representing a cross-section of the community. Someone from the audience commented that the last tax election failed because the committee had not been organized properly

OFFICE CLOSED

The Campbell Press office will be closed all day Friday, November 26, the day after Thanksgiving.

In order to publish two days earlier this week (on Monday instead of Wednesday), the staff worked last Saturday.

Happy Thanksgiving to you, too.

Hearing concerns downtown area

"Downtown Campbell" will be the subject tomorrow (Tuesday, November 23) when the Planning Commission begins the first of a series of "mobile" public hearings involving the General Plan.

Tomorrow's hearing at 7:30 p.m. will be held in the council chambers at the city hall but the other hearings will take place in the areas that will be under discussion. Members of the long-established Downtown Redevelopment Committee, headed by John Faber, have been invited to attend as well as all interested citizens.

The second hearing will be held at the Campbell Elementary School on Wednesday, December 15, and will concern the Rincon Park area. The school is adjacent to the park.

Subsequent hearings will be scheduled throughout the town.

Art Kee, planning director, said that the main purpose of the hearing, based on the Planning Commission directive, is to provide and receive information concerning elements of the general plan.

It is conceivable, he added, that updating the general plan might be considered after the hearings have taken place.

The General Plan, which was adopted in 1960, was updated in 1968 with the aid of federal funds with Management and Economics Research Inc. doing the spadework.

In the discussion tomorrow night, the city staff will review the background pertaining to the downtown area, beginning with the General Plan that was adopted under the guidance of Nestor Barrett, planning consultant.

That plan shows Campbell Avenue as an 80-foot major street going through the business district with the objective primarily for moving traffic.

Barrett in 1961 presented a "downtown development plan" in which he stressed the need for adequate off-street parking, pleasantly landscaped pedestrian malls, and continuous connection of one store front to another without "gaps".

He emphasized then that the downtown district must compete with modern centers, if it was to survive. That was in 1961.

Another report by Larry Smith and Co., which emphasized that downtown Campbell had no identity of its own and that traffic congestion and inadequate parking existed. That was in 1962.

Another report in 1962 made by D. Jackson Faustman, consulting traffic engineer, indicated that shopping traffic in downtown Campbell had to compete with through traffic and suggested (1) a bypass of Campbell Avenue be built and (2) improve Campbell Avenue to increase its capacity.

It was the result of these studies and the advanced planning program in 1968 that the concept of the downtown loop system was approved.

The first section of the north loop (south of the new city hall between Central and First) is under construction as part of the civic center development.

In addition to the problems relating to traffic, it is expected that the discussion tomorrow night at the public hearing will also involve the type of zoning that is now in effect in the civic center area and in adjacent parcels.

There has been some indication, city staff people have said, that an expansion of the special civic center zoning might be advisable.

Planning Commission members in holding these special "mobile" hearings are hopeful that they will get a reaction from the people as to whether the General Plan is working.

Direct quotes in board minutes raise question

Before direct quotes from one trustee appear in the minutes of the meetings of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District board, all the other trustees should be given the same opportunity.

That has been an apparently little-used board policy which was brushed off and shined up a bit last Thursday night.

But Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, board president, cautioned the trustees to use discretion in this privilege. Otherwise he envisioned minutes being 50-pages in length. He shuddered at the extra work that would cause the secretary.

What brought it on was that Ralph Steinberg, apparently unfamiliar with this policy, before the board had approved the minutes of the last meeting, questioned how come Dr. Bob King was the only trustee to be directly quoted in the minutes with respect to the traffic hazards that exist at Moorpark School.

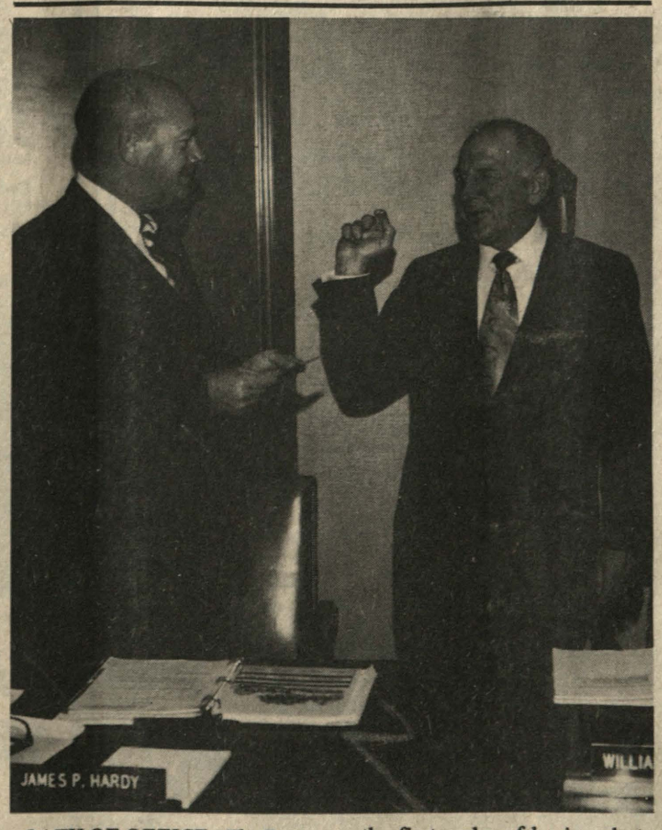
He said he and other board members had made similar comments but only King's had been quoted.

It turned out that Dr. King, apparently following an established board policy, had submitted his comments in writing to the secretary for inclusion in the minutes.

King added that he felt strongly on the Moorpark issue and thought something should be done about it and he simply wanted his comments on record.

The minutes were then adopted unanimously.

There was no indication that there would be any direct quotes next time.



OATH OF OFFICE—The Rev. W. H. (Ben) Gould takes the oath of office for a trustee seat on West Valley College's governing board. James P. Hardy, superintendent-president, administers the oath as the first order of business last Thursday. Gould won the seat in a special election Oct. 26. He fills the unexpired term of William J. Homan, who died unexpectedly July 19. Gould's term will run until June 30, 1975.

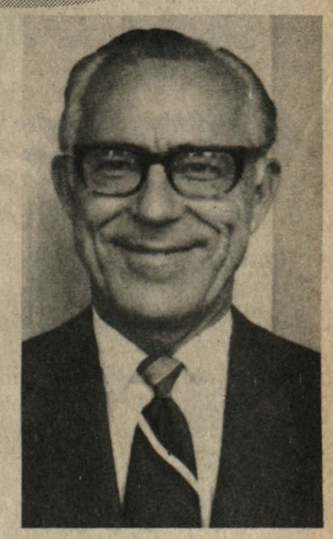
Thanksgiving Thoughts

The Thanksgiving message this year is presented by the Rev. Herbert Johnson, "dean" of the local clergy in point of years in Campbell. The Rev. Johnson, a native of Campbell, has been pastor of the Campbell Assembly of God Church since 1942.

He attended both Campbell Elementary and Campbell High.

The Rev. Johnson received his ministerial training at Glad Tidings Bible Institute in San Francisco (now Bethany Bible College in Santa Cruz) where he was class president and commencement speaker. Upon graduation he attended Southern California Bible College for additional studies in theology and archeology.

He and the former Alice Skaggs of Fresno were married in 1942 just prior to coming to Campbell. Both of them are interested in music and have traveled extensively with quartettes and choirs. During his pastorate in Campbell, the Rev. Johnson has ministered as an evangelist in churches in California and Washington.



HERBERT JOHNSON
--pastor here since 1942

The Johnsons have two daughters. Joyce, the older, is attending Bethany Bible College as an education major and is married to John Milton, a ministerial student. Jeanette, the younger daughter, is a sophomore at Campbell High.

Thanksgiving 1971

By HERBERT JOHNSON
Campbell Assembly of God Church

"My Father likes to hear the crow as well as the nightingale, for He made them both," was the answer Billy Bray, the Cornish evangelist, would give when people complained of his singing. He spent most of his life giving praise to the Lord, we are told, and most of it out loud. "As I walk down the street", he would confess, "I lift up one foot and it seems to say, 'Glory!' and I lift up the other and it seems to say 'Amen!' And they keep on like that all the time I walk."

This is quite the opposite of Edward Everett Hales' comment on worry:—"Some people bear three kinds of trouble—all they ever had, all they have now, and all they expect to have."

George Frederick Handel, unlike Billy Bray, was a musical genius. When he was discussing the composition of his famed Messiah, Handel singled out the moment when he wrote the words, "Hallelujah! For the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth," as the climax of his work.

"When I wrote those words in the Hallelujah Chorus," the composer testified, "then did I think I could see all heaven before me, and the great God Himself."

Praise and thankfulness are the opposite of worry. A special day for thanksgiving is good but only if it is typical of the thanksgiving that can be given every day. An illustration in opposites may be helpful.

It is said that J. Arthur Bank has his own special way of handling the problems of worry.

He decided to do his worrying on one single day—Wednesday, and he has what he has named his "Wednesday Worry Club."

When a worry occurs to him on any other day, he writes it down and puts it in a box. And, of course, when he opens the box on Wednesday, he finds that most of the things he was disturbed about have already been settled.

Giving of thanks is just the opposite. If we save all of our "thank you's" until November, we probably will have few to give, but only because of poor memories.

The first official Thanksgiving Proclamation of the United States, issued October 3, 1789, was written by William Jackson and signed by the President, George Washington.

Here it is: "Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly implore His protection, aid, and favors:

"Now, therefore, I do recommend to assign Thursday, the 26th of November next, to be devoted by the people of these states to the service of that great, glorious Being, who is the Beneficient Author of all the good that was, is, or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country, and for all the great and various factors which He has been pleased to confer upon us."

The first Thanksgiving, as we think of it, was celebrated in 1621. There were ninety Indians, fifty settlers, with five children present. The celebration lasted for three or four days. The settlers killed fowl and took from their fall crops. The Indians brought in five deer. It was a time of sharing, as well as thanksgiving. Fifty out of one hundred adults had died since landing in this new country. If it had not been for Indian supplies, these newcomers would probably have suffered the same fate. These pilgrims not only had reason to give God thanks for an harvest but also for their new benefactors.

A DAY FOR GRATITUDE

Here are two stories that may be helpful in giving us some of the sharing feeling that those early settlers must have felt.

The first is about a little boy who was crippled and could not go out and play like the rest of the fellows. Another son was born into his family and when he got big enough he would carry his brother around.

Together they widened the scope of living for the crippled lad, playing such games as was possible and seeking out new territory around the community.

One day they were at an intersection and a man said gently, "Son, let me help you with your burden." The boy looked up at him and replied, "Sir, this is not a burden—This is my brother!"

The second is also about a boy. It goes like this: A man once parked his car on a street. A boy came up and looked it all over. His eyes were wide with admiration of the beautiful car.

"Where did you get this car?" asked the boy. "My brother gave it to me," the man replied. "My, I wish.. ..." The man knew the boy was wishing that he had a new car like that.

But the lad went on and finished the sentence surprisingly: "I wish I could be a brother like your brother was. I have a crippled brother who cannot get out. I would buy him a car like this."

Thanksgiving both to God and man is a very personalized affair and personal gratefulness fosters giving.

At a recent meeting of some of the Campbell area ministers, one of them told of a family that had come for temporary help. The breadwinner's skill was no longer needed in industry. They were living in their housetrailer but they had nothing to eat. Provision was made. This family was so grateful that they kept up the communication even after they settled on a scrub farm in Oregon.

A young married college student stopped to chat with me the other day in front of the church I pastor. He and his wife recently accepted Christ as their Lord and Savior during the Bay area Billy Graham Crusade and had started attending a San Jose church with the friends that had brought them to the Crusade. He is waiting for his G.I. school allotment to come and he and his wife both work part time, but an unexpected financial problem had come up. He made mention of this to his pastor, who in turn mentioned it to the board of deacons. They voted to give the young man a little more than that crises amount, from a Deacon's Fund received regularly for this purpose.

"What shall I do;", he was pondering. "Shall I consider that a loan and try to pay that back, or accept it as a gift?"

His question seemed to answer itself as we talked.

If he coldly thought of it as a loan, the most that "deacon's fund" would receive would be the amount rendered. But if he gratefully accepted it as a gift, the "deacon's fund" would always have a special place in his heart. Over the years he would probably give much more than he was given.

How can we give thanks adequately within this atmosphere of sharing? What do we have that is valuable to give? We can start by giving ourselves.

The story is told of Shah Abbas, a Persian monarch, who disguised himself in clothes of squalid poverty, and went into a tiny cellar and sat by a fireman who tended the furnace. When mealtime came he shared the man's coarse food, and talked with him as a friend. He did this until the poor man cast aside his reserve and became attached to him.

One day the Shah revealed his true identity to his friend. When the truth sank in, the poor man spoke: "You left your palace and your glory to sit with me in this dark place. You became my friend in my loneliness. You have given me the greatest gift of all. You have given me yourself."

The Christian faith is built on this very principle. The Apostle Paul wrote, "Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift." Here he was referring to the offering up of Jesus Christ for us.

An American preacher of another generation, Dr. A.C. Dixon, told the story of frontier life. He said that years ago there was a certain school in the mountains of Virginia which no teacher could handle. The boys were so rough that the teachers would resign. Then a young, grey-eyed teacher applied, and the board asked him, "Young fellow, do you know what you are asking? You are asking for an awful beating." He replied, "I'll risk it."

Finally, he appeared for duty. One big fellow, Tom, whispered, "I won't need any help; I can lick him myself!" The teacher said, "Good morning, boys! We have come to conduct school, but I confess I do not know how unless you help me. Suppose we have a few rules. You tell me, and I will write them on the black-board." One fellow yelled, "No stealing!" Another called, "On time,". Finally 10 rules appeared.

"Now," said the teacher, "a law isn't any good unless there is a penalty attached. What shall we do with the one who breaks them?" "Beat him across the back ten times without his coat on," came the answer. Several days later "Big Tom" found his dinner stolen. Upon inquiry the thief was located, a little hungry fellow about ten. The next morning the teacher announced, "We have found the thief, and he must be punished according to your rule—ten stripes across the back. Jim, come up here!" The little fellow came trembling. He wore a big coat fastened up to the neck, and he pleaded, "Teacher, you can lick me hard as you like, but please don't make me take my coat off." But the teacher insisted, "Take that coat off; you helped make the rules." "Teacher, don't make me" came the plaintive request. Then he began to unbutton, and the reason was evident. The lad had no shirt. Strings held his pants in place. The teacher thought, "How can I whip this child? But I must do something if I keep this school."

He asked, "How come you are without a shirt, Jim?" The little fellow replied, "My father died, and Mother is very poor. I have only one shirt, and she is washing it today. I wore my brother's big coat to keep warm." The teacher with rod in hand hesitated. Just then, "Big Tom" jumped to his feet and said, "Teacher, if you don't object, I'll take Jim's licking for him." "Very well, there is a certain law that one can become a substitute for another. Are you all agreed?"

Off came Tom's coat, and five hard strokes were laid on his back before the rod broke. The teacher bowed his head in his hands and thought, "How can I finish this awful task?" Then he heard the entire school sobbing. Little Jim had reached up and caught Tom with both arms around his neck. "Tom, I'm sorry I stole your dinner, but I was awful hungry. Tom, I'll love you till I die for taking my licking for me. Yes, I'll love you forever!"

We can share both the love of God and man with a continuous celebration of Thanksgiving as we appreciate what each has to offer.

Wally was the watchdog for every inch of construction. But in this case he was not asking for Divine Guidance. He was merely directing a fork lift that was placing the cooler unit in the city hall.

But Wally's fellow city employees had a ball dreaming up their own captions for the photo.

We thought up a couple.

How about you?

SOME OF THE CAPTIONS were clever.

For example: "Let there be light." "Bless this building." "Amen!" "Apollo Who?" "Listen, fellas, don't louse it up now." "Peace, Give me peace, O' Lord." "Praying for rain." "Please, Lord, Don't let it fall down today." "Don't worry about it." "Praise the Lord, the cooler is in."

Regardless of the humor one wants to read into the photo, we had another reason for running the picture.

It typifies how conscientious Byron is in his work.

His fellow employees may have kidded him through their captions for this classic candid photo, but they all recognized that Wally had done a top-notch job and they appreciated it.

And all the rest of us should, too.

ANOTHER THANKSGIVING tradition that has a long history is the annual football battle between Los Gatos and Campbell. This series has been going since 1934, when there was only one high school in the Campbell district and one in Los Gatos with acres of orchards in-between.

Now, of course, on Thanksgiving Day other rivalries have been built up. All the teams in the league take part.

Camden, the second oldest high school in the district, battles Del Mar, the third one.

Saratoga meets Blackford. Leigh and Westmont tangle and Prospect and Branham do battle.

It's quite a football menu for Turkey Day.

FOR A LONG TIME THE Campbell Press has had its own special feature for the Thanksgiving Day Football classic.

Individual photos of the Campbell High football players are published and along side of each player is a Campbell businessman sponsor.

The business people appear for the most part in football helmets which, in most cases, does not make them any more photogenic.

Some, of course, may argue that point.

A few of the merchants who appear in this special gridiron rogue's gallery have been in every one of the features since it was started some time ago.

And we haven't charged their pictures.

Or did you guess that?

For example, Rex Jeffers, Tommy Blackmum, Lowell Benson, Dick Bersano and Sonny Chiaramonte have been in it almost from the beginning.

We mentioned that the feature has been going a long time.

But it is NOT true that their pictures were taken during the Knute Rockne era.

Admittedly the helmets they are wearing would indicate that.

Happy Thanksgiving to you, too!

and hoped that would not be the case again.

During the discussion on the proposed tax increase, Wadley referred to a report on tests given students. He said that the report indicated that in some manner the scores made by the students in reading and other subjects were related to the tax base of a given district.

Both MacQuiddy and Steinberg took exception to that. Steinberg said he failed to see any correlation and MacQuiddy added that he was skeptical of tests used as a basis for any conclusion because there was such a variation in the type given.

Board members, before going into an executive session, indicated that they were hopeful a decision would be made on the tax rate at the December 9 meeting which will be held at the administration office.

D'Avis explained that Friday, December 10, was the deadline for scheduling the February 29 election.

The election, he pointed out, must be held before March 15, the date when teachers must be notified whether their contracts will be renewed or not. Without this notification, they are automatically rehired.

Should a tax election fail, he added, the district tax would revert to $1.80 from the present $2.55 rate, resulting in a tremendous decrease in income to the district which could mean a decrease in personnel.

Letters to the Editor

HOME TOWN

Editor of The Campbell Press:

A few years ago I stopped in the little town called Madera, California, south of us.

I had lunch at The Fruit Basket. The food was just wonderful, if any of you should be going through this little town of Madera, stop and have lunch at the Fruit Basket.

The poem I am sending you was on the back of the menu. I was going through some papers and ran across this poem. I thought the poem fit our town of Campbell, at one time. Of course, our town isn't so little anymore.

If you see fit to print the poem I would be more than grateful. I, too, am a reader of The Campbell Press.

Thank you,
Nellie Lamb

LITTLE TOWN

I like to live in a little town
Where the trees meet across the street,
Where you wave your hand and say: "Hello"!
To everyone you meet.
I like to stand for a moment
Outside the grocery store
And listen to the friendly gossip of
The folks that live next door.
For life is interwoven
With the friends we learn to know
And we hear their joys and sorrows
As we daily come and go.
So I like to live in a little town,
I care no more to roam.
For every house in a little town
Is more than a house, it's home.

BIKE PATHS

EDITOR'S NOTE: Although the following letter was directed to the Planning Commission, we feel it contains a constructive point of view that should be of interest to all of us....G.V.

Campbell Planning Comm.
Dear Sirs:

I have been a resident of the Saratoga area for twelve years. I am now in Davis continuing my education at the University of California. During my two years here I have become interested in environmental problems and this brings me to the point of my letter. Campbell, I feel, needs bike paths along some of the more busy streets leading to the Campbell campus of West Valley College.

More and more people today are discovering bicycle riding. In 1970 there were approximately 64 million people riding bikes and I'm sure that number has greatly increased now. People are discovering how economical a bike is to ride, how good bike riding is for one's health, and how quickly a bike takes one to his destination.

This last fact may seem erroneous at first but as more cars come into our valley and the rush hour traffic gets worse, most cars are only moving as fast as a bicycle could.

The bicycle has become the favorite means of transportation for many students. Here in Davis there are an estimated 19,000 bikes. Most students ride their bikes to class everyday and Davis is not such an unusual city.

Each time I go home I see more ten speeds. Many of my friends in the San Jose area have some type of bike which they ride to West Valley often. The major complaint that I hear from these people is that the automobile traffic is so bad that riding on most streets is hazardous.

Many more people would ride bikes to school along Campbell Ave. and Hamilton Ave. if they didn't have to ride so close to cars.

Here in Davis, as in many other towns and cities across the nation, we have a system of bike paths. Saratoga has already begun to take some action in this area by installing bike paths on Saratoga Ave. and Fruitvale Ave. for the students at the Saratoga campus of West Valley College. I feel that it is time that Campbell takes some action to promote the use of bicycles in the city.

When I speak of bike paths I am thinking primarily of lanes on Hamilton Ave. and Campbell Ave. designated for bike use only. This could be done simply and cheaply by marking a small lane on the far right side of the road with a white or yellow line.

At various places this lane could be marked as a "Bike Path Only." I know that on Campbell Ave. there are many places where it would be impossible to make a lane solely for bicycles, but I think that in these places the bike path could either be routed to a side street or wider sidewalks could be made so there would be room for both pedestrians and bicyclists.

It would probably be easier to make a bike route along Hamilton Ave. even though students generally would have to go a little farther to get to West Valley because the road is wider in many places than Campbell Ave. Both roads are major routes to West Valley College and should have some sort of bike paths.

Bike paths can be enjoyed by everyone, not just the students. I feel that businessmen and housewives would all begin to ride bikes to work and to the store if they could ride them safely. It would be so much easier for a Campbell businessman to bicycle the few blocks to lunch, for he wouldn't have to fight the downtown traffic or hunt for a parking place and he would be working up an appetite as well.

If people could safely ride bikes, the downtown Campbell traffic would be relieved as more students and business men left their cars at home. Also, the parking problem at West Valley College would be diminished for bikes take up much less space than cars.

Finally, if more Campbell residents left their cars at home, they would help the Santa Clara Valley smog problem.

I am asking you to consider the issue of installing bike paths not as a Davis student attacking something she has no part of, but rather as a Saratogian who shops and spends much time in Campbell.

I have a brother who will be attending West Valley next fall and I am sure that he and many other students would ride bikes to school if bike paths were installed. If bike routes on Campbell Ave. and Hamilton Ave. were successful, your town could possibly install a whole bikeway system.

I would like to see Campbell be one of the first cities in the valley to promote bike riding.

I would appreciate a response to my letter and to know your feelings on this issue. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Katherine Buckles

Orchestra looks for musicians

The San Jose Children's Musical Theater, sponsored by the Cabrini Community Theater, announces openings in their show orchestra, which is rehearsing the musical hit "Oliver".

All interested musicians should come to St. Frances Cabrini Hall on Tuesday, Nov. 23 from 7 to 9:30 p.m., or phone John Healy at 371-0232 for information.

Any amateur musician of high caliber who enjoys playing the original Broadway scores for these exceptional productions are welcome. The current orchestra is composed of high school and college students, housewives and doctors.

Especially needed are a bass-clarinet, xylophone, vibraphone percussion, and all string and brass instruments. Additional rehearsal pianists are still needed.

Also needed is a local High or Jr. High School rehearsal hall for the future rehearsals, which will be held either once or twice per week. Anyone with information, please call 371-0232.

Musical Director for "Oliver" will be Patricia Healy, a well-known professional violinist in this area, currently at the College of Notre Dame in Belmont Calif.

NO JOB TOO BIG FOR 4-H--Saturday was 4-H Club Day at Dick Whalen's Regal Service on West Campbell Avenue and it was a busy, busy day! When Campbell 4-H club members put on their One Dollar Car Wash special they took 'em all, big or small. Shown above is one of the bigger cars, a Bill Deane Goodyear van driven by Clayton Murray.

"They did a terrific job", said Murray approvingly. Incidentally, Murray has more than usual interest in the car wash project as he has spent much of his spare time on youth projects. One of them was serving as a Scoutmaster for more than 20 years.

Flaming dishes flare up, appetizingly, for diners-out, as U.S. trend to restaurant meals — with dairy products — grows.

'Eating Out' Tastes Now Seek Gourmet Menus

More Exciting 'Made Dishes' Claim Interest of Selective Public

Eating out is a growing national pastime in the United States — from grabbing a bite in school or plant cafeterias, to picking up a drive-in hamburger after a movie, to going out to dinner at the best restaurant in town.

There are about 371,300 away-from-home eating establishments — one for every 539 people in the country. These establishments serve some 38 billion meals a year, employ about 3.3 million people, and use almost 20 percent of all the food produced in the country.

Americans like to eat out — more of them dine away from home by choice than necessity. But they don't want to wait to be seated. Asked why they didn't eat out more often, respondents to a restaurant survey listed the leading deterrent as that hungry wait.

Reasons they enjoyed dining out were: freedom from cooking and clean-up; good food; nice, quiet atmosphere; good way to entertain friends; and change of pace.

What are they looking for when they dine out? First and foremost, a good meal — 85% considered quality of the food a very important factor. Next in order of importance: cleanliness of restrooms, speed of service, friendliness of waiters or waitresses, then "atmosphere."

Who's the Customer?

The "average" restaurant customer comes from a family composed of husband, wife and one or more children in which the head of the family is between 35 and 44 years old, earns less than $7,500 annually and lives in the central city of a metropolitan area. The family spends about 10% of its eating-out dollar on meals at work, the other 80% on discretionary dining out and snacks.

Most eating places (40%) offer varied American foods, 31% serve mainly sandwiches and refreshments, 11% foreign foods. The remaining 18% of restaurants specialize in steaks, seafood, chicken and other limited menu selections.

The food service industry gets an interesting indication of the eating public's changing tastes from what menu items "sell" and which are in a decline. For instance, salads are gaining popularity on school lunch menus, with fruit and cottage cheese a pet of figure-conscious high school girls.

In low to moderate price restaurants, demand for pies is down (except for pumpkin, apple and cherry) but patrons are splurging on more cake variations.

The lobster and steak combination is the most often reported new item on higher price restaurant menus. But chicken, popular for home cooking and ready to take out in numerous chicken specialty eateries, has gotten too "usual" for dining out in style.

Personal Selection

A la carte menus and buffets give diners a chance to exercise personal selection and are gaining in popularity, but to be a solid hit the buffet needs special atmosphere.

The results of the recent fashion for gourmet cooking show up in some unusual ways — beef stew is "out" in college dining halls but Stroganoff and Goulash are "in."

Some items are fixtures on the food hit parade. When that major food service, the U.S. Army, polled soldiers' tastes most recently, they found milk the number one favorite as usual—preferred even to steak. The troops' most liked "accessory foods" or garnishes are butter and whipped cream.

Food trends don't always start with the public — sometimes restaurants invent them. Sour cream on baked potatoes was considered an unlikely combination when Lawry's introduced it in Los Angeles. Now, it's standard. Maybe there's a new favorite aborning in the West in Pickle Ice Cream — a flavor that's actually available!

Is it any wonder that Americans like to eat out? There's no telling when a meal will become an adventure!

BIBLE WEEK--The week of Nov. 21-28 has been officially proclaimed as Bible Week by the City of Campbell. In the above photo, Mayor Ralph Doetsch signs the proclamation while pastors of three local churches, left to right, The Rev. W. H. (Ben) Gould, First United Methodist Church of Campbell, the Rev. Wayne Myers, Congregational Church of Campbell and the Rev. Leonard W. Bose, St. Lucy's CAtholic Church, look on.

The proclamation adopted by the City of Campbell emphasizes that "the Bible abounds in spiritual illumination and instruction for all people of all ages and remains man's best handbook for life." The proclamation further urges all men, women and children of all faiths to observe the week by reading the Scriptures.

Good meals, good atmosphere are among reasons why Americans dine out more often. Dairy foods add appeal to such meals.

Thanksgiving Services

Churches in the area each year observe Thanksgiving Day through a variety of channels throughout the week.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST

Thanksgiving observances will take the form of a contemporary service of praise on Wednesday, Nov. 27, 7:30 p.m. at First United Methodist, 1675 Winchester Blvd.

Bob Campbell, music director, leads the youth choir, sanctuary choir and brass quartet in the musical portion of the evening. Members of the brass quartet are Mike Miller, Jeff Vore, Diane Lamy and Tom Stice.

Alan Goozee will take over ministerial duties for the Thanksgiving service.

ST. LUCY'S

A procession of worshippers will wend its way down the aisles of St. Lucy's, 2350 Winchester Blvd., in a concelebrated Thanksgiving mass, 9 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 25.

Food brought to the altar in the offertory procession will be given to needy families according to Father Leonard Bose. He will be assisted in leading the services by Fathers Henri Boisvert, Robert Leger and Felipe Borja. Only one mass will be held.

CAMPBELL SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST

The Wednesday prayer meeting takes on a Thanksgiving theme at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 24 at the Campbell Seventh-Day Adventist, 65 E. Rincon Ave.

A full-course dinner with a candlelight setting highlighted Thanksgiving activities for church members and new families last Sunday, Nov. 21.

Held in the music room of the West Valley Seventh-Day Adventist School, 95 Dot Ave., the annual event was planned by the social committee.

SARATOGA AVE. BAPTIST

Pastor Harry L. Twining will bring a Thanksgiving meditation to the traditional "Family Service" on Wednesday, Nov. 24 at 7 p.m. at the Saratoga Ave. Baptist Church, 1735 Saratoga Ave.

Desserts will be served after the informal patriotic worship service which features prayers and songs of thanks.

Patty Jo Yount will be soloist at a second service on Thanksgiving Day at 10 a.m. November 25, while her husband, Reverend David Yount, missionary to the Phillipines, will bring the message.

CHURCH OF GOD OF THE FAITH OF ABRAHAM

The regular Wednesday night prayer meeting of the Church of God of the Faith of Abraham, 555 McGlincey Ln., will have a Thanksgiving theme. Pastor Ray Hall will lead the services at 7:30 p.m.

FREE WILL BAPTIST

The Free Will Baptist Church, 157 Rincon Ave., also dedicates their 7:30 p.m. Wednesday prayer meeting to Thanksgiving. Reverend Wilburn Clark will speak at the November 24 worship service.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

Hymns of gratitude are a traditional part of the Thanksgiving Day services Thursday, November 25, 11 a.m. at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 395 W. Rincon Ave.

Ben Fowler, soloist, will sing "Blessing" accompanied by Mrs. Robert E. Kinney, organist.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD

Members and friends of the Assembly of God Church, 1870 Winchester Blvd. will celebrate Thanksgiving Day, November 25, with a breakfast of ham, eggs and rolls in the church hall from 8 to 10 a.m.

A mixed quartet featuring Reverend and Mrs. Herbert Johnson, the church's pastor, and his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Danbomb, Johnson's sister and brother-in-law, will sing at the breakfast.

The choir and junior choir may also present some numbers, and Mrs. Johnson will sing "Thanks to God", a hymn which she does traditionally every Thanksgiving.

Speaker at the breakfast will be Johnson's nephew, Reverend Daniel Danbomb, of Monterey.

CONGREGATIONAL

An informal Thanksgiving celebration with guitars and organ music will be held in the chancel of the Congregational Church, 400 W. Campbell Ave., at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, November 24.

Colin Ford, music director, is organist for the contemporary musical service.

Single people, and families without relatives will share a Thanksgiving Day dinner Nov. 25 at 2 p.m. in the Fireside room of the Congregational Church.

Sunday School children brought fresh fruits and vegetables to the altar in a "Fruits of the Earth Procession" last Sunday morning at the church.

The original Thanksgiving Proclamation written in 1623 was also read at the service since the roots of the Congregational Church date back to the pilgrims.

Fresh produce brought by the children along with canned food, and staples, gathered throughout this month, will be given to "Friends Outside", the families of prisoners of Santa Clara County.

Churches note hospital growth

"Good Samaritan Hospital Sunday," a tradition started seven years ago to emphasize the inter-denominational religious background of the nonprofit community hospital, has been scheduled for Sunday, November 28, in numerous churches throughout the Valley.

The observance is sponsored by the hospital's chapel committee, made up of trustees and members of the community. Chairman is Noel J. Brown, hospital trustee who is a retired Campbell manufacturer. Other Campbell members include Joseph M. Dahl and Mrs. Robert Hill.

For those churches participating, the hospital will furnish folder inserts which report progress of the hospital's expansion program.

The Good Samaritan Hospital of Santa Clara Valley opened in September, 1965, with 225 beds and has already been enlarged to 259 beds. Phase Two Expansion will provide room for 132 more beds. Existing programs of care will be expanded to meet the growing needs of the community, and there will be space for a modern diagnostic and treatment center.

BREAKFAST

The public is invited to a breakfast served by the Orchard City Grange on Sunday, Nov. 28 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at their hall, 109 N. First St.

Camp Fire Girls

by Ellie Rumbaugh

Five new girls were recently welcomed into the fourth grade Camp Fire Girls at Rosemary School, which doubled the group in size.

Laronda Ehlers, Paige Miley, Sandra Belleville, Veronica Suarez del Solar, and Christine Luke were welcomed by Teresa Lewis, Donna Jolimay, Allison and Eugenia Harkless, and Billie-Sue Hammaker. Their Camp Fire Guardian is Mrs. Marcel Jolimay and their Assistant Guardian is Mrs. Barbara Harkless.

In getting acquainted with their new Camp Fire friends, the girls planned their own Hallowe'en Party, complete with Hallowe'en costumes worn by all attending. They entertained each other with a puppet show, stories, some camping songs and Hallowe'en games. Everyone had fun and enjoyed fresh popcorn, soda pop, cookies and candy. Mrs. Max Belleville assisted the girls by leading the story telling.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO BIDDERS:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed bids will be received by the Governing Board of the West Valley Joint Community College District of Santa Clara County, California, at the Office of the Dean of Business Services of said District, 44 East Latimer Avenue, Campbell, until 11:00 a.m., December 8, 1971, at which time and place bids will be opened and publicly read aloud for the furnishing and leasing to said District of the items of equipment generally described as follows:

Bid #12-7172 Electronics Equipment

Said items of equipment noted above shall be furnished and leased to said District in accordance with the specifications therefore previously approved and shall be purchased on a three year lease-purchase basis. Said terms of lease shall be in accordance with specifications, conditions and forms on file in the Business Services Office of said school district, to which reference is hereby made for greater particularity. The bid shall include all costs of said equipment of any nature whatsoever.

Each bid must conform to the requirements of the plans and specifications and all other documents comprising the contract documents. The contract documents may be examined and copies obtained at the Office of the Dean of Business Services, 44 East Latimer Avenue, Campbell, California.

Owner shall reserve the right to hold any and/or all bids for a period not to exceed thirty-five (35) days.

No bid shall be considered unless it is made up on a form provided by the West Valley Joint Community College District and accompanied by a certified check, cashier's check, money order or bidder's bond for ten percent (10%) of the amount of the bid made payable to the West Valley Joint Community College District. The above mentioned checks or bid bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder shall execute the contract if it be awarded to him in conformity with the contract documents and shall provide the surety bond or bonds required within five (5) days after notification of the award of contract to the bidders.

The Governing Board of the West Valley Joint Community College District reserves the right to reject any and all bids and/or waive any irregularities in the bidding.

MAILING CAMPAIGN--- Douglas Beattie, Los Gatos chairman, and Wallace Perry, Campbell chairman of the March of Dimes, help deliver brochures and fund raising appeals to the Post Office for mailing this week. Perry, who has a son affected by an open spine defect urges Campbell residents to help prevent birth defects by learning about RH blood disease, and rubella (German Measles), and by contributing to March of Dimes research.

March of Dimes makes appeal

Carmen Donessa, the 8-year-old March of Dimes poster child, will be making a vicarious call at local homes this week (Nov. 22), as the Santa Clara County chapter, National Foundation-March of Dimes, sends out its annual brochure and fund-raising appeal.

A picture of Carmen, a victim of open spine, is on all the letters that will be received. Inside, residents will be offered an opportunity to order free educational information on birth defects and to fill return envelopes to support the education, care and research projects of The National Foundation.

Pamphlets available this year are on rubella (German measles, the disease that will affect the unborn child if contracted by the mother), Rh blood disease, birth defects questions and answers, birth defects centers and services, and prenatal information. Those on rubella and prenatal information are available in Spanish, as well as English.

Wallace Perry, chairman, Campbell March of Dimes, urges all local residents to learn as much as possible about what is already being done to prevent certain birth defects. Perry, who has a son affected by open spine, points out that dramatic progress has been made in some areas—like development of rubella vaccine, but there is much more research to be financed, which requires further funding.

Dinner honors Campbell couple

Mr. and Mrs. William O. Wenger of 84 LaVonne Dr., recently celebrated 25 years of marriage at a party given in their honor at the Cabana Hyatt House in Palo Alto.

The dinner and champagne reception was planned by their daughter, Mrs. Ronald (Wendy) Coffelt, and her husband.

The Wengers are involved in activities at the Congregational Church. Bill Wenger is a football enthusiast and attends games at Campbell High, where his son Bradley graduated.

Bradley Wenger, who currently is at college in Chico, was among the well-wishers at the party.

Youth bowl has annual "Toys for Tots" games Saturday

Two football games which will benefit youngsters will be played Saturday, Nov. 27, at Buck Shaw Stadium in Santa Clara.

"Toys for Tots" Youth Football bowl, co-sponsored by the San Jose Hornet Gridiron Club and the United States Marine Corps Reserve, is an annual event and this year's games will feature the San Jose Stingers and the Norwalk (California) Trojans at 4:30 p.m. and the Hornets and the Amador Forty-niners from Jackson, California, in the second game.

Half-time activities will be provided by marching bands from the area and between the two games entertainment will be provided by drum and bugle corps and clowns.

Admission to the game, which benefits needy children, is $1 for adults and a usable toy for children's admission.

A "gate prize" is offered and this year allows the winner his choice of a trip to Disneyland or to Las Vegas.

This is the tenth year for the youth football bowl game which was the brainchild of Darien Bennett, head coach of the Hornets in 1961. The Marine Corps Reserve added their support two years later and have collected over 100,000 toys in the past ten years.

Famous throughout the nation, the event is the largest youth bowl game west of the Mississippi.

Tickets may be purchased from any team or gridiron member or by calling 264-6724. Tickets will also be on sale at the gate.

FAMILY WORSHIP

The New Community of Faith will hold a family Thanksgiving worship celebration on Thursday, Nov. 25 at 10 a.m.

The congregation, made up of the American Baptist and United Church of Christ (Congregational) faiths, will hold a morning of contemporary music, interpretive dance and and a continental breakfast under the leadership of Dr. Richard Taylor.

The public is invited to attend.

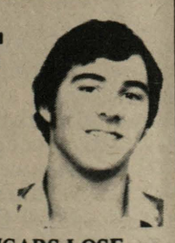
CLEFT PARENTS

All parents and friends of children with a cleft lip or palate are invited to the next meeting of the Santa Clara County Cleft Parent Group, Inc. on Tuesday, Nov. 30 at 8 p.m.

Coffee and cookies will be served at 7:30 before the program which is held at the Lutheran Church, 1550 Meridian Ave., San Jose.

An informal discussion will follow a talk on genetics by Dr. Luigi Luzzatti, director of the Pediatric Birth Defect Clinic at Stanford.

Cougars Corner



By Chris Rodgers

CAMDEN FLIPS FALCONS
by Charles Farnsworth

Camden's Varsity football team gained its most significant and one of its greatest victories ever by downing the No. 1 ranked, previously unbeaten Saratoga Falcons 22-20.

The loss dealt to the Falcons by the Cougars was only their second in two years, as they were defeated by the league champions, Leigh, last year.

Fired up and with an upset in mind, the Cougars invaded Los Gatos Helm rain-soaked and muddy field under the lights last Friday night. Saratoga scored first and took a 14-8 halftime lead before the Cougars came back in the second half to score twice and gain the victory.

Tino Rodriquez was the big Cougar threat as he talled all three touchdowns and scored 20 of the 22 points, he scored on runs of 1, 19 and 14 yards respectively and also added a two point P.A.T. run. Enjoying his best day running this season, Rodriquez romped for 122 yards on 17 carries for a 7 yard average.

Counterparting Rodriquez in the backfield was Dan Durbin who picked up 85 yards on 12 carries for a 7 yard average and Tom Genovese who hit on 7 of 18 passes for 88 yards.

A fine display of blocking by the Cougars' offensive line consisting of Rick Randazzo, Don Schulz, Jeff Colla, Kevin Fryslie, Charles Farnsworth and Todd Hancock resulted in the fine showing by the Cougars' offensive.

Leading a tenacious defensive charge that stymied the explosive Falcons to 20 points was linebacker Dan Durbin who struck the opponents on 14 tackles and 2 assists.

COUGARS LOSE, BUT TRY HARDER
By Mark Lueder

Camden's Varsity football squad must definitely be considered a better team. Although their league record is 3-4 their statistics for the year show otherwise.

The Cougars have gained 1,268 yards on the ground, averaging 6.1 yards a rush. Tino Rodriquez and Dan Durbin led the ground attack with Tom Genovese, quarterback, calling the plays.

Passing is one of the Cougars strong points this year as they have been blessed with a junior superstar split-end, John Delopez. Tom Genovese, together with Delopez, and Todd Hancock show an impressive 1,068 yards gained in the air averaging 7.1 yards a pass.

Defense has got to be ranked as one of the top three in the league, with such all-league standouts as Dan Durbin and Jeff Cunningham. Durbin has made 67 tackles and Cunningham has racked up 48.

The "ringmaster" of the team is Tom Genovese, quarterback, who has piled up an impressive 45% pass completions. This may not seem too good but compared to the other quarterbacks in the league, he stands out as the Caesar among them.

Thursday the Cougars finish the season with their traditional rival game against Del Mar. In the past years Camden has won nine out of 12 Thanksgiving Day games and the odds are definitely on our side again, as Camden averages more points a game than Del Mar.

But the Dons are not to be underestimated. They will be ready for us Thursday and they'll have high hopes of victory. So let's all go out to the game and see the Conquering Camdenites shatter the life out of the Dons and bring us home another roast turkey!

COMPUTER VISITS CAMDEN, STUDENTS LEARN PROGRAMMING
By Bruce Siggins

Camden High mathematics students recently had the unique opportunity to practice computer programming, courtesy of the Olivetti Underwood Corporation. Camden math students were able to use the Olivetti Programma 101, a small "desk-type" computer system.

Algebra II and trigonometry students were given a week-long course in basic computer programming techniques, and instruction on how the Programma 101 functioned. The students were then given free time to try their own abilities at handling the machine.

Programs varied from very simple to unbelievably complex. One student tried to program the machine to handle Einstein's famous equation, $E=mc^2$. Another made a program for another teacher to help her compute test grades.

Students' opinions on the special unit were all very complimentary. One student commented, "that machine makes US work harder than we can make IT work!"

After its tour at Camden, the machine will be returned to Herb Lewis, system sales representative for Olivetti Underwood, as he arranged for the Programma 101 to be available for student use in the first place. From the attitude of the students involved in the Computer Programming Unit, it will be missed greatly.

THESPIANS PRESENT PLAY
By Chris Rodgers

Camden's Little Theater will present Act III of "Plaza Suite" in room 28, on Thursday, December 16, at 3:15, for only a dime.

What happens when, on her wedding day, the bride-to-be (Annett Apgar) locks herself in the bathroom? What does her father (Mark Gunsky) think after he has reserved the whole lobby of the Plaza Suite Hotel for the ceremonies? What can her mother (Carol McDonald) say to the guests? What can the bridegroom (Marc Bracy) do about it?

These and other questions will be answered as the sixth period drama class (or better known as the Camden Little Theater) presents Act III of "Plaza Suite".

This is the fifth presentation of the year as it follows "Sunday Costs Five Pesos", "Riders to the Sea" and "Mother-Love". Their next show will be "Frank, Bea, Richie and Joan"on December 16.

HARRINGTON and DOROTHY HARRINGTON, his wife executed and delivered to THE HIBERNIA BANK, a banking corporation, a Promissory Note in the total amount of Ninety-five hundred ($9,500.00) Dollars, and to secure the payment and performance of all the terms thereof, did execute and deliver to said corporation, a Mortgage upon the parcel....of real property hereinafter described, which said Mortgage, dated December 17, 1965, was recorded December 20, 1965, in Liber 7218 of Official Records, at page 26, in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Santa Clara, State of California; and

WHEREAS, said indenture of mortgage contained a grant of power of sale to said corporation in the following terms:

"Mortgagor hereby empowers mortgagee to sell and convey the property herein mortgaged or any part thereof, at any time after said promissory note has become due and payable in accordance with the terms, provisions and conditions of this mortgage or said promissory note; any such sale may be public or private at the option of the mortgagee, may be conducted by mortgagee, its agent, or attorney, and may be for such price and on such terms as to payment or otherwise as mortgagee may deem proper; at any such sale, mortgagee, in its own name, or in the name of any other person, shall have the right to purchase, and mortgagor hereby authorizes and empowers mortgagee to execute, acknowledge and deliver, in the name of mortgagor, a good and sufficient deed and bill of sale of said property, or any part thereof; any recitals contained in any deed or bill of sale of the mortgaged property which may be made by mortgagee shall be deemed conclusive evidence of the facts recited;", and

WHEREAS, thereafter said corporation did cause to be recorded in the office of the Recorder of said County of Santa Clara, State of California, a "Notice of Breach of Obligation Secured by Mortgage and of Intention to Sell Real Property Described Therein", declaring a breach of said obligations and its intention to sell the real property described in said Mortgage, which said Notice of Breach was so recorded on the 19th day of July, 1971, in Book 9422 at page 588 of Official Records in the office of the Recorder of the County of Santa Clara, State of California;

NOW, THEREFORE, in accordance with the terms, provisions and conditions of said Mortgage and under the authority of the power of sale contained therein, the undersigned, the owner and holder of said Promissory Note and Mortgage does hereby give notice that on the 17th day of December, 1971, at the hour of 11:00 AM of said day, at the main entrance of the County Court House, 191 North First Street, San Jose, State of California, it will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, lawful money of the United States, all that certain real property located in the County of Santa Clara, State of California, bounded and more particularly described as follows:

MUSEUM TOUR --- Richard Bicker explains a mounted display to children and adults touring the museum-auditorium which contains Bicker's private collection of minerals, artifacts and precious stones. Bicker has hosted thousands of children's groups from all over the Bay Area in the 30 by 100 foot auditorium. The auditorium adjoins the Campbell Rock Shop, 412 E. Campbell Ave.

Gem of a hobby becomes pile of rocks

By Barbara Price

MUSEUM

Although Bicker no longer has the time to lead discussions, groups of children and adults still crowd the museum to view his collection of minerals, artifacts, and precious stones.

Set into wood-paneling on both sides of the auditorium are glass cases displaying American rocks like glittering Ciniside, or gleamy Chrysocolla; California gems such as purple Tourmaline, rings, pins and necklaces crafted in the shop; and pre-Columbian artifacts.

Three rusty metal flasks, displayed in one case, were buried beneath the ground for over 100 years. The flasks contained 300 lbs. of mercury, valued at $2,200 when they were unearthed by two young men using a metal detector rented from the Campbell Rock Shop.

One of the museum's most interesting specimens is a 9" by 19" sample covered with Benitoite crystals, a rare gem which commands a higher price than diamonds and is found only in San Benito County, California.

MANY FACETS

With as many facets as one of the museum's gemstones, Bicker's enterprise has a wide appeal.

A visitor to the Campbell Rock Shop is confronted with an almost bewildering array of equipment.

Near the center of the first room knots of people cluster around a table covered with rocks kept shiny by jets of fresh water.

Several members of Bicker's staff of eight assist customers interested in shelves and cases of jewelry, lapidary tools, fossil rocks, minerals, agates, gemstones, beads, bookends and geology books.

In a narrow room away from the mainstream of customers are several students gently polishing stones by rubbing them on whirring grinding wheels.

Bicker's staff keeps busy with two different lapidary classes, a $25 course in gem-polishing, and a $40 course in casting and making jewelry. Tom Tilney, chief jeweler, is the main teacher.

ACTIVE

Lapidary classes, prized rock-collections, jewelry, and group lectures—the different facets of the Campbell Rock Shop, reflect the personality of Richard Bicker and his wife.

Bicker's active, inquiring mind has led him to pastimes as diverse as painting, water-skiing, European travel, and flying his own airplane.

More important to the Bickers than any hobby is their interest in and concern for people, especially the young.

The amiable couple, like other Campbell businessmen, have helped college students by providing them with part-time work, and by sharing their experience with them.

One budding young geologist, who spent many hours in the shop, showed his appreciation by helping them construct the museum, and later, by dedicating his thesis on platinum to Richard Bicker.

In earlier years the couple also devoted time to their four children, Albert Bicker, Richard C. Bicker, Randy Ranum, and Mrs. Barbara Lairby.

The Bickers are looking forward to the day when they can "take it easy" by moving to Paradise, a retirement community on the Feather River.

Part of Bicker's plans for filling the idyllic hours include writing a book.

And of course, for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bicker, "taking it easy" means....opening another rock shop!

MANY FACETS---Customers bend over cases of fossils, minerals, jewelry, books, and a wet display of shiny stones in the Campbell Rock Shop, 412 E. Campbell Ave. The shop's many facets include a large, private museum and a wide variety of precious and semi-precious stones to satisfy even the most avid rockhound.

Rebekahs have district meet

Rebekah Lodges District Three will hold their official district meeting this coming Tuesday, November 23, at the Odd Fellows Temple on Race Street in San Jose.

Ora J. Lowe, district deputy and president of Ada Rebekah Lodge of Campbell, will supervise the meeting.

Host lodge will be Stella Rebekah and Lucille Mulligan, Stella president, will be instructor for a question and answer period.

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

Word has just come up from Southern California that the third annual Far West Shootout has been scheduled for Feb. 20. Sponsored by the Laguna Beach Jaycee's, the purse this year will be around $2,000.

This will make quite a month in Southern California as the SCDA plays host to the All-Star match on the President's Weekend Holiday.

From the East comes word of the USDA Championship at the Riverside Plaza Hotel in New York, Dec. 5. No information as to purse, but last year they said $5,000, which turned out to be more like $2,000.

The USDA which claims to be the voice of darting in the United States, does not recognize our West Coast groups. They claim a membership of 4300, nationally. In California between the NCDA, SCDA, the Tri-County Darts Assn. and the Central California Darts Assn., there are over 2000 active dart players.

Less than one per cent of these belong to the USDA.

The USDA has also announced a touring pro circuit of darts; but here again, no mention of purse money, but they do say that "the top 16 money winers (sic) will compete for a year-end Super Purse." I know a lot of our darters drink beer and a few drink wine, but this is the first time I've ever seen it as a prerequisite of our sport.

MOFFETT FIELD GAMES

A couple of weeks ago the Courtyard II "Prosecutors" invaded a CPO Club at Moffett Field to do battle with their dart team. Played on a basis similar to the all-star rules, the NCDA reps took the match, 15-6.

WEEK'S GAMES

Scarlet LaRue's I defeated the Primrose Lanes I "Banshee's" 8-4 while second place Lancashire Lad I polished off Harold's of Redwood 9-3.

The Lads picked-up a game on the La Rue's leaving them only two games behind in the South Bay League "A" division.

In the "B" division Burlingame's Primrose Lanes II lengthened their lead over Campbell's Gaslighter Theater II "Reruns". The Rose defeated Lad II 10-2, but their sister team, Rose III, gave up eight games to the "Reruns", winning only four.

Campbell's Black Knight closed the gap in the El Camino League "A" division. The first place Prince of Wales I dropped their match with Banbury Clock I, 8-4. The Knights split with Andy Capp's of Sunnyvale 6-6.

As both teams were tied for second place going in, neither improved over the other, but they both picked-up two games on the Prince. They are now both three games out of first.

Banbury Clock II lengthened its lead over Lancashire Lad III by defeating the Gaslighter III 8-4. The Lad split with the Club Gato 6-6.

In both the "A" & "B" divisions of the South Bay League, the point spread between first and last place is 26 games. The El Camino is a little closer with 17 in the "A" divison and 18 in the "B".

Mugs!

DART GAMES
WEDNESDAY (Dec. 1)

Prince of Wales II at Gaslighter Theater II, 400 E. Campbell Ave., Campbell.

Gaslighter Theater III at Black Watch II, 141½ N. Santa Cruz Ave., Los Gatos.

Banbury Clock II at Club Gato, 37 N. Santa Cruz Ave., Los Gatos.

Warrior Wrap-Up

by Denise Bern

The vaunted squadron of Warrior gridmen continued their winning ways by thrashing the powerful Camden Cougars, 22-12, Nov. 5, on the opponents field.

The opening score for Westmont came on an 18-yard Pat Dawes-to-Bruce Thurmond aerial. Other Warriors to hit pay-dirt were Jeff Martin on a 25-yard interception, and Dave Gillespie on a 25-yard pass.

Hopes for a long win streak were dashed the following Friday, however, when the Buccaneers of Campbell defeated the Warriors, 22-12.

Doug Iwanaga scored both Warrior touchdowns, on a 90-yard run, and a pass thrown by quarterback Pat Dawes.

HOMECOMING

Westmont's six finalists in line for the throne of Homecoming Queen are Leslie Alexander, Pam Anderson, Christie Baldinger, Melinda Bertoni, Linda Mabe, and Evon Simon.

Out of the six girls three will be chosen, and the Queen will be crowned at Westmont's Homecoming Dance, Nov. 24. Life Force will provide the entertainment and the cost will be 75 cents with ASB card, $1.50 without.

Thanksgiving Day will undoubtedly be a time to remember at Westmont. The day begins at 7 a.m., with a Thanksgiving Day Breakfast sponsored by the Westmont Booster Club. The admission fee will be $1 per adult and children under 12 will be admitted for 50 cents.

The breakfast will be followed by the Westmont Homecoming game against the Leigh Longhorns on the Warriors' field. Frosh-Soph will battle at 9 a.m. and Varsity will clash at 11 a.m.

League teams square off on grid Thanksgiving Day

Campbell High and Los Gatos High will meet for the 38th time on the gridiron this Thanksgiving Day at Los Gatos but only by the most outside chance will the result of the game have any bearing on the championship of the West Valley Athletic League. Saratoga appears to have the championship pretty much in the bag with a tie already cinched.

Campbell boasts a 5-3 record in league play after staging a surprise 16-8 victory over second-place Prospect last Friday.

Prospect, holding a 6-2 record and tied for second place with Los Gatos, meets Branham (5-2-1) Thursday and is favored to win.

Thus should a virtual miracle occur on Turkey Day and Blackford defeat Saratoga, the league could wind up with a three-way tie with Saratoga, IF Los Gatos, in turn could beat Campbell.

But those are big "ifs."

Blackford has yet to win a league game and on Thursday goes against the league-leader, Saratoga, which sports a 7-1 record.

Camden, defeated by Los Gatos Friday by 16-8, has a 3-5 league record, meets Del Mar on Thanksgiving. Del Mar beat Westmont 16-8 on Friday.

In the other Thanksgiving Day game, Leigh with a 2-5-1 record meets Westmont with a 2-6.

Campbell dealt a real blow to Prospect's title chances last Friday in winning 16-8 behind the stellar playing of Steve Davis, rated as one of the outstanding backs in prep circles.

Davis, who is among the leaders in the area offensively, not only had a big day on the offense on Friday by scoring 10 points and gaining 119 yards on 23 carries but also led the team defensively with 11 tackles.

If Prospect had won last Friday, it would have meant that Prospect and Saratoga would have gone into Thursday's fray with the same 7-1 record...

Prospect had the game tied 8-8 with only 10 minutes to go but the Bucs took the next kickoff and drove 56 yards on 13 plays with Kelley Davis going over from the one with three minutes remaining.

Los Gatos on Friday was lucky to pull the game out of the fire against Camden. A fumble recovery midway through the fourth quarter set up a five-yard touchdown play to make it a 16-8 win for Los Gatos.

Saratoga on Friday squeezed by Leigh 22-18 to cinch at least a tie with Dave Slade leading the way. Slade scored three times while carrying the ball 25 times for 151 yards.

Del Mar defeated Westmont 17-6 with Dave Hamilton putting in quite an afternoon. He intercepted two passes and scored a touchdown. Jim Zetterquist, who scored Del Mar's final TD on a 36-yard run, racked up 144 yards during the afternoon on 21 carries.

SEVENTY-SIX TROMBONES Campbell High School band members, under the direction of Clarence Savage, right, are spending some rather late hours these days. Volunteer members of the group are participating in the West Valley Light Opera's current production of "Music Man".

The band members don't appear until the final scene, when they march down the aisle in the red and white band uniforms playing "Seventy-six Trombones." Rehearsing, left to right, are Phyllis Kistler, Colleen Zelmar, Donna Gallaher, Brenda Gallaher, Sam Wood, Scott Fedde and Adriana Lewis. Kneeling with a "Music Man" poster, front, is Bruce Horbi.

The production continues Nov. 26, 27, 28, Dec. 3, 4, 10, 11, 12, 17 and 18 at the Saratoga Theater. For information, call 356-6410 or 248-8240.

Campbell Capers

by Jeanie Harris and Doreen Henner

To a nervous crowd, MC Kelly Davis announced the 1971 Homecoming Queen at the dance on Friday, November 19. Fourth runner-up is Yolanda Naranjo, escort Pete Hovland, third runner-up is Elsbeth Schwarz, escort Bill Schoenfeldt, the two girls who tied for first runner-up are Ann Tuttle, escort Paul Middleton, and Kathy Shane, escort Kevin Mitchell. The girl who will reign as the 1971 Homecoming Queen is Jackie Hardwick.

Steve Davis' great performance at the Varsity football game against Prospect on November 19, blew Prospect's chance for first place. Davis led his team offensively, scoring 10 points and gaining 119 yards on 23 carries. He also led the team defensively with 11 tackles. Linebacker Mike Donecho added nine tackles.

Prospect tied the game 8-8 with 10 minutes left, but Campbell came back to win with Kelly Davis scoring, with three minutes remaining which made the final score 16-8 for Campbell. Thursday, November 25, Campbell will take on Los Gatos in the biggest game of the year, the Thanksgiving Day Game, at 11 on the Wildcats' field.
